Thank you.

The last issue was written on a balmy day in summer..... Oh! How the weather changes in New England! As I look out the window I see piles of snow two or three feet high, (parked conveniently to block garage doors or bury trash cans) and the temperature this afternoon has moved from 0 degrees to a heartening 9 degrees! It certainly is promising to be a challenging winter for 2018!

We thank so many of you who sent e-mails or notes of condolence on the loss of Sr. Regina last year and the subsequent closing of Cluny School in June. The school property remains much the same, so I guess there are no buyers yet. I resist the temptation to stop and pick flowers when I pass it in the car or peek in the windows....just to satisfy my curiosity.

The year was full with the planning for our Assembly/Chapter in October and the coming General Chapter in Paris. Some of our dearest friends have left us for the mansions above and on the local level we have seen more building of hotels and more restaurants than ever! Newport is the biggest small town! While the media and big city papers debate the ever present confusion of the federal government, we keep on top of the things that really matter...plastic bags? Yes or No. Not enough free space for dog walking? The coyotes are taking over Bellevue Ave, and should cats be licensed? Don't tell me you are using plastic bags for shopping!!!! Horrors!

Truthfully, all these things, little and big are important to someone and to our planet and we muddle through them little by little in pursuit of a better world for all. May the Good Lord look on us with kindness and grant that 2018 might bring us just a bit closer to the kind of world He wants us to have.

Sister Anne Marie
